

What is the Singapore FinTech Festival?

The Singapore FinTech Festival brings together the global financial community in a week-long celebration of FinTech. The inaugural Singapore FinTech Festival took place in 2016, an invigorating week of distinct FinTech events. This year, you can expect even more exciting discussions, stimulating demos and insightful debates. Whether you're a start-up, technology company, investor, financial institution, research institute or innovation professional, you'll want to be part of it.

Who should attend?

German and European FinTech companies interested in expanding their business to Asia on C-Level respectively business development managers as well as European corporates with a strong financial services interest - whether traditional banks or non-banks - C-Level, Innovation and Business Development Managers.

What do we offer?

FinTech Consult with its partners in Germany and Singapore offers a two-day immersion program (Nov 14-16) into FinTech in Singapore. Our program includes a start-ups Only 3-day conference pass for the FinTech Festival, networking event, tours to major FinTech spaces in Singapore and guidance by one of our partners.

What will be your expenses?

Our fee of 349 Euro (+VAT) includes a start-ups Only 3-day conference pass for the FinTech Festival, networking event, tours to major FinTech spaces in Singapore and our local guidance & support. This fee does not include any travel, transfer, meal & accommodation costs. Depending on your choice for flights and hotel, we expect travel expenses of about 1,600 Euro (direct flight in economy class, 4-star hotel).

When do you need to apply?

Deadline for your application in writing is 6 Oct, with payments received by 13 Oct.

Contact us for further details

Hasib Anwar, hasib@fintech-consult.com
Dr. Jochen Biedermann, jochen@fintech-consult.com